- What is this “Open” thing I keep hearing about?
- Thinking about Open differently
- What’s the big deal about Open?
- Key Mechanic of Open
- Choose your own presentation...
  - ▣ Finding or Creating
- Wrapup

Outcomes

- Understand the scope of the Open landscape, with a focus on Open Content
- Understand the implications and importance of Open
- (Hopefully) Identify something to take with you...

How will you adopt, produce, or encourage the use of Open?

What is this “Open” thing I keep hearing about?

So, what have you heard?

- ❑ It's Free!
- ❑ Open Course Library
- ❑ iTunesU
- ❑ General topic, but limited in specific areas
- ❑ Non-credit
- ❑ Creative Commons licensing
- ❑ Issues with accuracy, completeness, quality, aligning
- ❑ It's scary, when you commit, you're on your own, to mediate content, to build support
- ❑ Good metadata is crucial to find what you want, to find meaningful results

Open... Education

- Source
- Content / Educational Resources
  - ▣ CourseWare / Courseware
  - ▣ Textbooks
  - ▣ Courses
- Educational Practice
- Journals
- Knowledge
- Policy

We're going to focus on this part

Cable Green will talk about this in the closing keynote

What are some benefits and challenges of Open Educational Resources (OERs)?

Benefits

- ❑ Free!
- ❑ Cost savings to students
- ❑ Ease of updating

Challenges

- ❑ Free!
- ❑ Making sense and using resources
- ❑ Convincing articulating universities to accept courses that utilize OERs
- ❑ Technical compatibility
  - ❑ (no publisher support)
- ❑ Reliability
- ❑ Need to update
- ❑ Functionality—bundled systems

Thinking about Open differently

What are OERs?

How do you define “Open Educational Resources”?

10

- More audience participation...

OER: l'innovation du jour?

11

- We're going to talk about OER writ large.
- We're not going to bore you with definitions! (Well, we'll try!)
- We're not going to get all religious about OERs!

Think of OER as a Starting a Conversation

12

- A conversation about teaching, crafting courses, & sharing course materials
- A conversation about collaborating with peers and even students

This doesn't sound like it's specific to OERs does it?
And, you're probably already using OERs!

Poll: Do you (or your faculty)...

13

- ☐ Talk about courses with peers?
- ☐ Borrow course materials, teaching techniques, sources?
- ☐ Share materials back with your peers?

OER is all of these things!

14

- At it's heart, OER is about doing these sorts of things!
- And, it's about encouraging sharing of materials and practices...
- And, it's clearly communicating what others are allowed to do with the materials...

Ok, let's get a bit more formal

Recall...OER: A Definition

16

OER are teaching, learning, and research resources that reside in the public domain or have been released under an intellectual property license that permits their free use or re-purposing by others. Open educational resources include full courses, course materials, modules, textbooks, streaming videos, tests, software, and any other tools, materials, or techniques used to support access to knowledge.

The resource is available for others to use

OERs are a part of Open Education

- OERs focus on resources
  - ▣ They have been getting a lot of attention at the federal and state levels
  - ▣ They are primarily course materials and open textbooks
- Open Education is the bigger concept
  - ▣ Sharing, availability and access

Importance of Open

Importance of Open Education

21

Potential for...

- Reclaiming control
  - ▣ From publishers, from static content
  - ▣ Enabling flexibility to mix and match
- Changing the nature of the educational experience
  - ▣ Smaller chunks, focused objectives
  - ▣ MOOCs, alternate credentialing
- Reigning in costs without sacrificing quality or access
  - ▣ Student and institutional

Open is a means to an end: Improved learning and performance

22

Key mechanic of Open

Adding a license to your resource...

Poll: When borrowing resources...

- ☐ Do you look at the license or terms of use?
- ☐ Do you provide attribution for those resources?

What are you allowed to do?

What might you allow others?

24

- Instead of “All Rights Reserved”
  - ▣ Can someone else use the materials?
  - ▣ Can someone build upon or modify the materials?
  - ▣ Can they use those materials commercially?
  - ▣ Do they have to share any materials they develop the same way the materials were originally shared?

Do these sound familiar?

Mission

WHAT IS CREATIVE COMMONS?

Creative Commons helps you share your knowledge and creativity with the world.

Creative Commons develops, supports, and stewards legal and technical infrastructure that maximizes digital creativity, sharing, and innovation.

Learn about CC

License

HOW CAN I LICENSE MY WORK?

There is no registration to use the Creative Commons licenses. Licensing a work is as simple as selecting which of the six licenses best meets your goals, and then marking your work in some way so that others know that you have chosen to release the work under the terms of that license.

Our license-choosing tool can help you select the right license.

The Licenses

Attribution CC BY

This license lets others distribute, remix, tweak, and build upon your work, even commercially, as long as they credit you for the original creation. This is the most accommodating of licenses offered. Recommended for maximum dissemination and use of licensed materials.

View License Deed | View Legal Code

Attribution-ShareAlike CC BY-SA

This license lets others remix, tweak, and build upon your work even for commercial purposes, as long as they credit you and license their new creations under the identical terms. This license is often compared to “copyleft” free and open source software licenses. All new works based on yours will carry the same license, so any derivatives will also allow commercial use. This is the license used by Wikipedia, and is recommended for materials that would benefit from incorporating content from Wikipedia and similarly licensed projects.

View License Deed | View Legal Code

Attribution-NonCommercial CC BY-NC

This license allows for redistribution, commercial and non-commercial, as long as it is passed along unchanged and in whole, with credit to you.

View License Deed | View Legal Code

Attribution-NonCommercial CC BY-NC

This license lets others remix, tweak, and build upon your work non-commercially, and although their new works must also acknowledge you and be non-commercial, they don't have to license their derivative works on the same terms.

View License Deed | View Legal Code

Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike CC BY-NC-SA

This license lets others remix, tweak, and build upon your work non-commercially, as long as they credit you and license their new creations under the identical terms.

View License Deed | View Legal Code

Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs CC BY-NC-ND

This license is the most restrictive of our six main licenses, only allowing others to download your works and share them with others as long as they credit you, but they can't change them in any way or use them commercially.

Welcome!

The Open Course Library is a collection of expertly developed educational materials – including textbooks, syllabi, course activities, readings, and assessments – for 81 high-enrollment college courses. 42 courses have been completed so far, providing faculty with a high-quality, affordable option that will cost students no more than $30 for course materials.

Our goals:

1. Lower textbook costs for students
2. Provide high quality, open resources for faculty
3. Improve course completion rates

Phase 1 Courses

Our 42 phase 1 courses are now available. All course materials are shared under a Creative Commons \(CC-BY\) license unless otherwise noted. If you have adopted an Open Course Library course please fill out the Adoption Form.

Phase 2 Development

Our phase 2 courses are currently being developed. They will be available Spring 2013.

Open educational resources

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Open educational resources (OER) are digital materials that can be re-used for teaching, learning, research and more, made available free through open licenses, which allow uses of the materials that would not be easily permitted under copyright alone.<sup>[1]</sup> As a mode for content creation and sharing, OER alone cannot award degrees nor provide academic or administrative support to students.<sup>[2][3]</sup> However, OER materials are beginning to get integrated into open and distance education.<sup>[4]</sup> Some OER producers have involved themselves in social media to increase their content visibility and reputation.<sup>[5]</sup>

OER include different kinds of digital assets. Learning content includes courses, course materials, content modules, learning objects, collections, and journals. Tools include software that supports the creation, delivery, use and improvement of open learning content, searching and organization of content, content and learning management systems, content development tools, and on-line learning communities. Implementation resources include intellectual property licenses that govern open publishing of materials, design-principles, and localization of content. They also include materials on best practices such as stories, publication, techniques, methods, processes, incentives, and distribution.

- Flickr (www.flickr.com)
  - ▣ Some CC-licensed, find via Advanced Search
- MIT Open CourseWare (ocw.mit.edu)
  - ▣ One of the granddaddy's of OERs, CC-by-nc-sa
- MERLOT (www.merlot.org)
  - ▣ Wide range of resources, complex licensing
- OER Commons (www.oercommons.org)
  - ▣ Wide range of resources, nearly all CC-licensed
- Open Course Library (www.opencourselibrary.org)
  - ▣ Open Textbooks, 42 published, more coming, CC-by
- Wikipedia (www.wikipedia.org)
  - ▣ Probably the biggest OER, support for attribution

Discussion Questions

52

- ☐ What makes a site an OER?
- ☐ Did any of the sites surprise you?
- ☐ What features make some sites better than others?

Wrap-Up

Revisiting Outcomes

Discussion

Revisiting Outcomes

56

- Understand the scope of the Open landscape, with a focus on Open Content
- Understand the implications and importance of Open
- (Hopefully) Identify something to take with you...

How will you adopt, produce, or encourage the use of Open?

Discussion of OERs

57

- Creative Commons licensing
- Modularizing, and a chunk or chunks, using OERs may make them more accessible
- Tie in with teaching and learning
- Start redesigning course, crowd-source, get students to help—discuss, analyze, integrate
